anti-silver members. The silver plank is generally regarded with more interest than any other of the resolutions.

The sub- committee as a whole is best known as to membership, and perhaps the strongest of any sub-committees of the resolutions committee.

The minority of the sub-committee understand that free coinage cannot be obtained as a declaration of principles and the composition of the committee seems to make it unlikely any anti-free coinage men would consent to anything which would not win the assent of Messrs. Jones and Teller. Cannon is probably the most liberal of the majority of the committee in his silver views, but probably is unwilling to give his consent to any ad vance in the present law.

The coinage of silver instead of its storage is one point which the free comage men earnestly desire, as they fear the piling up of bullion will not tend to make the people regard silver as money. When the general committee gets to work on the platform it is likely the greatest efforts of the silver men will be made. They have held a number of conferences for the purpose of considering the free coin-age plank for submission to the committee. The plank proposed declares that the republican party favors bi-metallism on the present ratio, or such other ratio, McKinley for Chairman.

Governor McKinley was elected chairman of the permanent organization this evening. It was a cut and dried affair, none of the members caring to bring out a candidate against the tariff expert. The selection was due to the fact that he is conceded to be eminently fair, and while in favor of the renomination of Harrison, the anti-administration forces did not object. After the selection of McKinley, the committee on permanent organization perfected the other details of organization and minor temporary officers were confirmed in appointment.

A Big Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting at Convention hall to-night under the auspices of the state league of republican clubs was attended by fully 10,000 people. Upon the platform were seated nearly all of the most prominent leaders in attendance at the conven-

The meeting surpassed even the convention proceedings in point of enthusiasm. The speakers were about equally drawn from the two factions. The Marquette club quartette of chicago opened the prongs with a campaign song to the of "Marching Through Georgia," and on an encore responded with a political hymn, "Cleveland's a Hoodoo as Sure as You're

John M. Thurston was introduced and made a long speech saying among other things: "We are in the vortex of a great storm center of preliminary politics. Let us not worry for the future. Out of the contest will come a grand cyclone of re-publican enthusiasm that will sweep away once and for ever every barricade of the democratic party erected upon the pathway of American progress. The name upon the lip of every republican in in the country day after to-morrow morning will be the name of the nominee of the republican convention.

"There will be no halting when the battle is once on and the flag that represents republican principles, whatever name may be inscribed on its banner, will wave for republican patriotism, progress, protection and American power against all the nations of the earth and especially against the democratic party.

Hon. Roswell G. Horr of Michigan then addressed the convention and the deli-cate sarcasm of his utterances and the lofty eloquence of his fervid peroration threw the vast audience into alternate paroxysms of laughter and enthusiasm. Female Suffragists at Hand.

The Federal Suffrage association of the United States has presented a long set of resolutions to the national republican convention, asking the adoption of a plank in the platform extending the right of suffrage to all citizens regardless of

The resolutions recite that foreigners, the poor house, jail, saloon and ignorance have been enfranchised, while the school and church have been disfranchised. They call attention to the last republican platform affirming the supreme and sov-ereign right of every lawful citizen to east one ballot and ask that it be defined so as to include both sexes.

Midnight Wh isperings.

Prolonged suspense is having a telling effect on the enthusiasm of the crowds in attendance at the convention, while frequent conferences are being held by the leaders. The followers of both factions are anxiously awaiting information which may throw light on the situation. which appears hopelessly uncertain.

The chief interest for the moment is centered in the proceeding of the committee on credentials. So close appears the contest between the elements of the committee for control, both sides are making a desperate fight to capture the whole of the delegates in dispute.

The Blaine people claim they have everything to gain by postponement of the balloting, and for that reason it is understood they will endeavor to delay permanent organization of the convention as far as possible.

The Harrison leaders deny they are losing ground by postponement, and are disposed not to force organization, lest such action be construed as evidence of weakening on their part. The Blaine people have apparently accomplished the purpose of their delay in twice securing the postponement of definite action by the committee on credentials. The committee is making slow progress with its work and a poll would indicate the Blaine men in the majority.

The committee met at 4 o'clock but adjourned immediately and at 8 o'clock reassembled, but up to 1 o'clock the first contest had not yet been taken up and the only thing accomplished was making up the roll of delegates in uncontested dis-

The probabilities are with a possible excommittee in the contest will be affirmed by the committee on credentials. The committee adjourned to 9:30 to-morrow morning which is looked upon as evidence that the standing committee as Harrison men, wanted to continue the

The leaders of the opposing hosts held conferences at the various headquarters lasting late into the night. At the conclusion of the Harrison conference it was stated that reports received by the committee showed that the president had made substantial gains during the day and that the Harrison vote pledged to-night was larger than since the beginning of the contest. Senator Hiscock stated that the full New York delegation to-night showed a gain of 10 votes for Harrison. Felton of California stated that Harrison would have 14 votes from that state, although the Biaine people insist that all but four are now in line for the favorite.

It is claimed there is no serious defec-tions in the South and telegrams from many prominent men throughout the country indicated on sober second thought republicans now expressed themselves for

The Blaine conference is still in session at a late hour, and nothing definite is learned as to the meeting. It is being freely asserted, however, by the Blaine cohorts that the plumed knight has gained 70 Southern votes during the day.

AFFAIRS AT BOZEMAN.

Talk of Changing the Location of the Postoffice-Fourth of July Doings.

Special Correspondence of the Standard.

BOZEMAN, June 7.—There is a good deal of talk about the probable removal of the postoffice from its present quarters to some point nearer the center of the city. For several years the postoffice was located in the Courier building at the west end of Main street. Two years ago it was removed from there to the new Story block, directly opposite on the south side of the street, its present site.

During all these years it has been retained in that part of the city, by the rent and one clerk's salary being paid by the citizens of the west side, the money being raised by subscriptions and collected monthly. The citizens residing on the east side, feeling that such a location was unjust to them, but knowing no way but the same way to "work" the powers in Washington, made several unsuccessful attempts to "go" the west side "one better" in their donations. This postoffice fight has practically divided the city into two districts and worked up a spirit of strife among residents that will be hard to

It is to the shame of the government that such a condition has existed so long. The thing that should be done and that speedily, is for the government to select a suitable building near the middle of Main street and pay its own rent and clerk hire, for the receipts of the office abundantly justify such an expenditure. The city is making great preparation for the reception and entertainment of the delegates and visitors to the state convention which meets here Thursday.

Varrious committees have been named to look after the comfort of all who come and there will be ample accommodations for everybody.

Bozeman proposes to have a grand Fourth of July celebration. The city council has made a liberal appropriation of money, and private citizens will contribute to swell the fund, It is the intention, if arrangements can be made with the railroad company, to run a special excursion train from Butte.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

for the Foreclosure of a Mortgage-Confessed Judgment.

BUTTE, June 7.-W. A. Clark & Bro. today commenced an action in Department I. of the district court against F. R. Miles, Henry Williams and E. M. Trask for the fercelesure of a mortgage for $30,000. The amount is due on a note secured by a mortgage on section 27, township 4 north, range 10 west, except the southwest half of the northwest half, situated in Deer Lodge county, and on section 21, township 3 north, range 9 west, in Silver Bow county. Williams and Trask are included as defendants because it is alleged they also claim a lien on the property by a for-mer mortgage, but which the plaintiffs in the case have reason to believe has been satisfied. Judgment is asked for $30,000 and for a reasonable attorney's fee, which of the northwest half, situated in Deer

There was no court in either department to-day. A civil suit between J. T. Shinnick and Joseph Goggin et al., to recover $730.91, was set for trial in Department L, but when called up the answer in the case was withdrawn and judgment confessed for the amount sued for and costs.

Seriously Injured.

BUTTE, June 7.—Thomas Carr sustained what will probably prove to be a fatal injury while working at the Ground Squirrel mine to-day. The accident was a very peculiar one. After putting in and firing a blast, Carr retreated about 100 feet from the place and waited for it to go off. thinking he was safe at that distance. At the explosion of the blast a piece of copper quartz flew along the drift and struck Carr in the left lumbar region, just above the kidney, penetrating the abdominal cavity. He was removed to the sisters' hospital, where laparotomy was performed by Dr. Hough, assisted by Drs. Monroe and Johnston. A piece of quartz about the size of an almond was found in the abdominal cavity and the peritonsteum had a large number of pieces of fine quartz and sand imbedded in it, which it was found almost impossible to remove. The attending physicians state to-night that the proba-bilities are very unfavorable for the man's recovery.

DO NOT LIKE THE LAW

What the County Officials Think About the Decrease in Their Salaries.

MORE LITIGATION PROMISED

Suits May Be Instituted Against the County-Sorae Jobs That Are Not Sine-

BUTTE, June 7.—The county officials the had their emoluments of office cut down by the salary law have never been satisfied with the supreme court decisio to the effect that the law is constitutional and they are still looking for some excus for bringing another suit. The county auditor has been engaged during the past few days in making comparisons between the expenses to the county under the fee law and salary law and the result has been altegether favorable to the county ex-chequer, which has raised another com-plaint from the efficials, who consider themselves rebbed of what the county is themselves rebbed of what the county is winner.

District Clerk Will Clark announced this morning that he would commence suit against the commissioners for the amount of the fees by him turned over to the county. Mr. Clark contends that his office does not come under the same decision rendered by the supreme court a few months ago in the case of Sheriff Lloyd against the county commissioners, and that the district clerk's office comes under an entirely different section of the law.

under an entirely different section of the law.

According to the report of the auditor the total receipts of the district clerk's office for the five months ending June 1 were $2.618.45, to which, under the old law, the clerk would have been entitled in addition to $250 as salary.

Under the old law the clerk was allowed two deputies at a salary of $100 a month each, and thus under that law the county would have paid the clerk during the past five months just $4,035.12. Under the new salary law the clerk gets $3,000 a year, or $1,250 for the five months covered by the auditor's figures, and four deputies at $2,000 for the same time, a total of $3,250, or a saving to the county of $785.12, which amount Mr. Clark thinks himself entitled to.

$2,000 for the same time, a total of $3,250, or a saving to the county of $785.12, which amount Mr. Clark thinks himself entitled to.

The total earnings of the office of the county clerk and recorder for five months is $4,649.15, which under the old law, Mr. Booth would have been entitled to in addition to $1,000 a year salary, but then he employed all his deputies and paid them out of his fees. In other words, with his salary and fees he would have, under the old law, earned in the five months $5,665.82.

The county now provides the clerk and recorder with six deputies at $100 a month each, and the total expense of the office for the five months was $1,250, or a saving to the county of $815.82.

The official figures for the other county of lices have not yet been made, but the comparison in the sheriff's office and the treasurer's office are about the same in the two mentioned above. Under the old law the treasurer received all fees and a salary of $1,500, which amounted to about $5,000 a year. The county then furnished him with two deputies also, the same number he has now, although he is entitled to another.

The treasurer's salary under the new law is $2,250 a year, which makes the saving in his office apparent.

The largest cut or saving, however, is made in the assessor's office. Under the old law the assessor's office. Under the old law the assessor received a salary of $1,000 a year and all fees and commissions on assessments, his bill for last year being $8,000,00, but it was cut down to $5,065.15, and $2,945.75 deducted as commission on the illegal assessment of non-resident mortgages. Under the new law the assessor gets a salary of $2,500 and no more. He was also allowed formerly two deputies, whose salaries were paid by the county. He is allowed the same number now, with an additional one for six months.

Assessor Holland has now pending in the court a suit for the $2,945.75 which he now, with an additional one for six months.

The Bozeman Convention.

BOZEMAN, June 7.-The democratic state convention, which meets day after to-morrow, will bring to Bozeman 400 or more visitors from various parts of the state. They will be representative citi-zens of Montana, intelligent, observant men, who will receive positive impres-sions and who will subsequently impart those impressions to their friends at home They are all aware that Bozeman is a candidate for the capital, and their observations will be mainly conducted with a view of determining for themselves the validity of her claims.

And this is what they will see: A typical vestern city of substantial business blocks and beautiful homes, broad streets lined with teams loaded with material for the numerous buildings now in course of con-struction; every building in town occupied; every business man, every mechanic and every laborer busy, and every citizen wearing the smile of contentment; a sur rounding country checkered with fields of growing grain and meadow lands giving promise of abundant crops and well filled pecketbooks; a hospitable community in which every citizen is a self-constituted committee of one to welcome and enter tain the visitors. They will see a live, pro gressive city, possessing every element of prosperity, centrally located, easy of hecess, and having every qualification necessary to commend it as the proper place for the permanent seat of government. All this they will note, and when the delegates return to their homes, Bozeman will have friends in every precinct in the state to advocate her claims.
